

Educate

Inspire

Develop

AngusNZ invites you to celebrate with like-minded women at

The Great No Bull Weekender

We know that there is some amazing women behind AngusNZ – playing key roles in their farming partnerships while combining family life, career, and community involvement at the same time.

So we've decided that it's time to support and celebrate our amazing woman with a unique 'girls only' event that aims to:

- educate
- inspire
- develop

This fun-filled three day event, offers you a chance to not only network with like-minded souls but to also gain additional knowledge and confidence that you can utilise in your farming business.

Sounds great aye!

The snag is that we only offering limited places so that everyone can get the maximum out of the event.

Set to take place in Gisborne, Thursday, 26 October – Saturday, 28 October 2023 the offer is open on a first in, first served basis.

The cost is set at $400 per person (excluding flights and accommodation). We recommend approaching your local wards for financial support towards travel costs.

The three days is focused on meeting your needs. With this in mind you will find a questionnaire to help us refine the event structure. Below is a possible itinerary of what we are planning:

Proposed Itinerary

Day 1 – 26 October 2023

PM Arrive, meet and greet
Sponsor packs given out

Day 2 – 27 October 2023 (Turihaua Stud)

AM# Know your 'why'
Growing confidence
How to stamp your mark

PM Cattle conformation and lingo
Tips & tricks for photographing cattle
Marketing your bulls

Day 3 – 28 October (Turihaua Stud)

AM Working with your Bank
Identifying mental health issues
How to support mental health

PM Fun in the Sun

Run by Agri-Woman's Development Trust presenters

If you're keen to attend head to the angusnz.com/nobull to register your interest and secure your place.